Go Take a Hike!

While we are waiting for events to take place again in PMC, one wonderful way to pass the time is hiking on our local trails. Here are a few of our favorites.

The Woodland Waterfall -- The shortest of the trails in Pine Mountain Club is also the most strenuous and it is not suitable for small children. Though it is only 3/4 of a mile long, this trail winds over rockslides and up a stream bed to a beautiful pair of small waterfalls. It is stunning in the spring and early summer when the runoff is the heaviest. To get there, drive to the top of Woodland Drive and park in the cul-de-sac. A sign marks the entrance to the trail. Follow the path along the stream as it winds through the canyon. Please do not trespass on the lot next to the trail. As you near the base of the waterfall, the trail turns into the rocks that have fallen in the stream bed. After reaching the lower falls, think twice before climbing to the upper section. The climb up is difficult and the climb down is even harder. The rocks are slippery.

San Emigdio Canyon -- The oldest inland highway in California is on Pine Mountain Club property. Spanish missionaries found gold in San Emigdio Canyon and later, U.S. soldiers made their way to Fort Tejon along this path. Near the end of the trail stands an enormous “witness” tree (a surveyor burned directions on the trunk). The trail ends at the gate to a private ranch further down the canyon. To get to this trail, drive east on Mil Potrero and turn left on Nesthorn Way. Follow the paved road and park at the cable. Hike along this road approximately 3/4 of a mile. Cross the stream and follow the road for another 1/4 mile. At this point, the road turns right, and a wagon trail veers down the canyon to the left. Follow the wagon road. The trail crosses the juncture of two creeks and follows along the floor of this historic canyon for approximately 2-1/2 miles.

The Whitener Tree -- The Whitener Tree is one of the largest Ponderosa Pines in California, 600 to 1,000 years old. This tree is visible from Mil Potrero Highway 1/4 mile east of the PMC sign, but it is even more majestic as you stand at its base. To get there, follow the directions for San Emigdio Canyon, but continue walking along the hard road as it starts uphill to your right. The old Mil Potrero Road follows the stream approximately 2-1/2 miles until it rejoins the new highway at the base of the tree.
